WHO ARE WE AND HOW CAN WE HELP YOUR PATIENTS?

The Donor Conception Network provides essential support and resources to donor conception families. We are a leading authority in the donor conception community with over 2000 member households and around 5000 unique monthly visits to our website, 40% of which are new visitors.

Our members and those visiting our website include anyone using gamete donation, sometimes with surrogacy. They may be heterosexual or same sex couples or single people. We are there for people right from the moment they start considering donor conception through treatment and pregnancy and, hopefully, raising children. Using a donor is not the same as simply using IVF. There are important additional things to consider when a child won't share a parent's genetic make-up.

We offer the social and emotional support your patients need when making difficult, sometimes complicated, decisions. Our charity provides booklets, films, children's books, workshops, conferences, local groups and contact with other families to ensure as far as possible that anyone considering or using donor conception gets the information and help they need.

People can ask questions, voice any grief and sadness, consider options, meet others further down the road - all in a safe and supportive space. Children can grow up knowing there is a place where they can meet others conceived 'just like them', ask questions or explore what donor conception means to them. This is enormously important in building confidence and helping families through any challenges they may face.

You do the essential work of helping people to get pregnant. We partner with you in looking after the emotional well-being of those parents and children.
